While we may not be legally obligated to produce a formal modern slavery statement, we have implemented robust policies and procedures to prevent modern slavery and human trafficking within our organization:

- Supplier Engagement: We engage with our suppliers to ensure they share our commitment to ethical conduct and respect for human rights. While formal audits may not be feasible for all suppliers, we communicate our expectations and encourage compliance with relevant standards.
- Employee Training: We provide comprehensive training to our employees to raise awareness of modern slavery and human trafficking issues and empower them to identify and report any concerns.
- Whistleblowing Mechanisms: We have established confidential channels for employees and stakeholders to report any suspected instances of modern slavery or unethical behaviour, without fear of retaliation.

Continuous Improvement

Although we may not have the same reporting requirements as larger organizations, we are dedicated to continuous improvement in our efforts to combat modern slavery:

- We regularly review and update our policies and procedures to ensure they remain effective and aligned with best practices.
- We collaborate with industry partners, government agencies, and non-governmental organizations to share knowledge and resources and drive collective action against modern slavery.

Transparency and Accountability

Acumed Ltd is committed to transparency and accountability in our efforts to prevent modern slavery and human trafficking. While we may not be legally obligated to publish a modern slavery statement, we believe in being open and transparent with our stakeholders about our commitment to ethical conduct.

Conclusion
