Holt Lloyd International Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement 2024

This statement, made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015, sets out steps Holts has taken and is continuing to take to understand and minimise the potential risk of modern slavery in its business and supply chains.

For over 100 years, Holt Lloyd International (‘Holts’) has been manufacturing and delivering leading brands and high performing appearance, repair, maintenance and winter products to the automotive aftermarket. Today, with the Holts, Redex, Simoniz and Prestone brands, Holts continues to be the international automotive product supplier of preference.

Our supply chain

As a responsible supplier and employer, Holts makes every effort to ensure that all of the products we supply to our customers are manufactured or sourced in an ethical manner. We work with our suppliers to confirm that the practices inherent in those suppliers comply with all relevant legislation regarding employee working conditions.

In addition, Holts are members of SEDEX and are regularly audited both by SEDEX and by our customers, many of whom are major, multinational retailers, to ensure regulatory compliance.

Embedding the principles

The principles will continue to be embedded by the following activities:

- Provide awareness training to staff on the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and inform them of the appropriate action to take if they suspect a case of slavery or human trafficking.
- Ensure that consideration of the modern slavery risks and prevention are added to Holts' policy review process as an employer and procurer of goods and service.
- Ensure Holts' strategies and contract terms and conditions include references to modern slavery and human trafficking.
- Continue to take action to embed a zero-tolerance policy towards modern slavery.
- Ensure that staff involved in buying/procurement and the recruitment and deployment of workers receive training on modern slavery and ethical employment practices.

Conclusion

In view of the policies and processes outlined above, we have a framework that adequately safeguards Holts against slavery and human trafficking within its own business and that of its suppliers. We believe that there is a very low risk of slavery and human trafficking taking place within Holts or our supply chain.
