

Allianz Partners in the UK Modern Slavery Statement

for year ended 31st December 2025

Introduction

This statement applies to AWP P&C (UK Branch) ('P&C'), a branch of AWP P&C SA incorporated in France, and AWP Assistance UK Limited ("AWPA"). Both are members of the Allianz Partners Group (AP), an operating entity of the Allianz SE Group.

AP takes a zero-tolerance approach towards human rights violations and is committed to having an ethical and sustainable supply chain. AP therefore support the Modern Slavery Act ('MSA') and its aim to drive out all forms of modern-day slavery and human trafficking from business practices. As such P&C and AWPA continually assess the risk of acts of modern slavery, human trafficking or child labour occurring within the scope of the activities carried out by AP operations in the UK.

Supplier Due Diligence

The nature of the financial services industry limits the exposure of P&C and AWPA towards modern forms of slavery, human trafficking or child labour, as the tasks carried out require regular training and often regulatory licenses or specific certifications, which cannot be achieved under the usual circumstances of slavery.

As the financial services industry does not use raw materials or produce goods, exposure to supply chain risks is relatively limited. Where goods such as stationery or promotional items are ordered, P&C and AWPA are obliged to assess any relevant risks relating to the parties offering these goods. P&C and AWPA have carried out a review of and will continue to monitor new and existing suppliers. To date, to our knowledge, no incidents of modern slavery, human trafficking or child labour have occurred in our supply chain.

AP is committed to a transparent and robust procurement process. Allianz Group entities operate a vendor integrity screening and anti-corruption framework which considers various elements such as prevention of corruption, bribery and other forms of non-compliance including modern slavery, human trafficking or child labour.

In addition, a globally accessible Vendor Code of Conduct (VCOC) exists which reflects Allianz's clear commitment to the UN Global Compact's Ten Principles (a framework of ten principles in the areas of human rights, labour, the environment and anti-corruption). It requires all suppliers to promote respect for these rights both internally and across their supply chain through their actions and by engaging with governments of the countries in which they operate. The VCOC also seeks to ensure essential Human Rights are maintained, and the Standards of the International Labour Organisation are adhered to.

Quality Assurance

AP also maintains a system of quality assurance and auditing activities which cover its internal controls to ensure the implementation of adequate control for various types of tasks across the different lines of business.

Staff Awareness

The principles and values mentioned above are also reflected in the Allianz Code of Conduct for Business Ethics and Compliance (ACOC). The ACOC sets out the minimum standards of behaviour expected from Allianz staff, in order to maintain trust and integrity. Upon commencement of employment with AWP, all staff receive the ACOC which reinforces our zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships.

Continuous Improvement

Whilst the above-mentioned activities are being carried out by P&C and AWP, as a business we continue to look at how we can further mitigate the risk of modern slavery in all its forms in our supply chain, thus ensuring that we are doing everything possible to identify and mitigate such risk.
