Every organisation is at risk of being involved in this crime through its own operations and its supply chain. At Envision Digital, we have a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and are fully committed to preventing such abuses in our operations and supply chain. We will not knowingly deal with any business involved in modern slavery and have taken concrete steps to tackle modern slavery, as outlined in this Statement. This Statement sets out the actions that we have taken to understand all potential modern slavery risks related to our business, and to implement steps to prevent modern during the financial year 2022.

any modern slavery practices involving any of our suppliers, we will take the relevant steps including terminating our contracts with such suppliers.

Risk assessment

In the past year, we conducted a risk assessment of our supply chain by taking into account:

- The risk profile of individual countries based on the Global Slavery Index;
- The business and/or services rendered by our suppliers;
- The presence of vulnerable demographic groups; and
- A news analysis and the insights of labour and human rights groups.

This assessment determines our response and the risk controls that we implement.

Policies

Envision Digital has adopted a number of policies to assess and address risks of modern slavery. These include:

- “Speak Up” Culture - we encourage a “speak up” culture among all Envision Digital Persons, customers and suppliers to report any unethical or illegal business conduct and any violations of our Code of Conduct (“our Code”) or company policies. Our commitment to creating this culture is enshrined in our Code and SpeakUp Policy. We provide an independently managed whistleblowing platform available 24/7/365 in over 68 different languages so that concerns (including instances of modern slavery) can be reported anonymously without fear of retaliation.
- Code of Conduct - our Code commits all Envision Digital Persons to the highest standards of integrity, sets out our commitment to respecting the human rights and dignity of every person we deal with in the course of our business, and supporting international efforts to promote and protect human rights, including an absolute opposition to modern slavery. Doing the right thing under our Code expressly includes working to engage third parties who are committed to fair employment practices and humane workplace standards; to being alert for evidence of human rights abuses such as forced labour or human trafficking in our operations or in the operations of our supply chain and to report such abuses.

Supplier due diligence

- Envision Digital conducts appropriate due diligence on new suppliers during onboarding and on existing suppliers at regular intervals including their commitment to human rights and fair employment practices.
